

Managing Data with Volumes

This section describes how to organize and manage data using volumes, a unique feature of MapR clusters. It also explains how to set up node and volume topologies. Finally, this section discusses how to work with snapshots and mirror volumes to preserve copies of data so you can protect against data loss.

For a full discussion of each topic, see these pages:

- Introduction to Volumes
- Setting Up Topology
- Working with Snapshots
- Working with Mirror Volumes
- Data Protection
- Schedules
- Working with a Logical Volume Manager